

EFESME celebrates its 20th anniversary!

The year 2025 will see EFESME turn 20 years old and celebrate this important anniversary with a series of national events

To celebrate this momentous occasion in the best possible way, EFESME decided to involve its national members in organising a series of events in honour of its 20th anniversary, during which it would meet the lift SMEs and workers it represents.

The first event will take place in Paris on 4 April, organised together with the French national member of EFESME, the transalpine association ANPA.

To mark the occasion, EFESME has organised a round table to meet and talk to the French lift sector, its SMEs and workers, as well as representatives of those entities involved in the sector itself - notified bodies, building administrators, architects, and so on.

According to the Secretary General, José María Compagni, all lift companies must be happy to celebrate together the richness and diversity of the lift industry in Europe. Paris is the perfect place to start the series of events, thanks to the work ANPA is doing.

There are many challenges ahead, but working together, manufacturers, installers and maintenance companies will guarantee that a strong network of local, regional, and national companies will offer a safer and more accessible Europe for everyone.
